

SELECTED WORKS 2024

Francisco Sepúlveda

As a 3D Artist, I apply a methodic creative process to transform architecture and interiors into vivid 3D images.

My background as a traditional landscape painter subtly weaves into this process. I'm always open to new learning opportunities to refine my skills.

Featured here is a selection of my works, a mix of commissioned and personal projects.

Throughout my professional career, I have utilized a variety of software tools, including 3ds Max, Blender, and Unreal Engine.

My ability to rapidly acquire new skills and embrace new challenges enables me to effectively adapt to various work environments.

Open Living: Rural House with Natural Views

2023

Blender
Affinity Photo

Storytelling is central to my work. With these three images, I sought to create a visual narrative that highlights the open architecture of the living space and its relationship with the powerful natural vistas.

In this personal project, I incorporated various modeling techniques, including matte painting with my own photography.

Selected Commission Works

"Gröninger Hof" Apartment View.

2023

As part of this commission, I assisted clients in visualizing the spatial arrangement of a future multi-purpose cooperative building in the heart of Hamburg.

The emphasis was on helping clients understand the difference in layout and space distribution compared to their current apartment.

Another facet of this project was the precise measuring, photographing, and modeling of a specific selection of furniture that the client plans to move into their future apartment.

By doing this, the connection between the client and the space becomes more tangible.

Steilshooper Straße 108

2023

This project stood out as the apartment structure was already in place. The task at hand was to reimagine the living room and bedroom, along with a multifunctional space that was to serve as both a home office and a gym.

The client was eager to explore and maximize the latent potential of his apartment

Persönliche Projekte

"Hamburg Halle", Concept

2023

In the heart of my hometown, Hamburg, lies a location by the harbour in Hafen City. This area, transformed by significant construction developments, served as the canvas for my conceptual building.

Drawing design elements from an existing structure in China (Golden Sands Lake Grand Theater), I envisioned a cultural edifice with a distinct curvature, contrasting the prevalent rectangular forms in the area. This project necessitated a comprehensive modelling of the building and its landscape.

Apartments in Barmbek, Concept

2023

Transitioning to another distinct corner of Hamburg, I found inspiration in the characteristic red brick apartments that define this area. Their presence, contrasted by the smaller family houses, creates an intriguing juxtaposition.

Thank you for your attention to my works. With my readiness to apply my skills, we can collaboratively create unique architectural visualizations.

I look forward to your outreach.
